Shelby County Players announce a major organizational change with the election of a new Board of Trustees. The Board consists of four community-based, non-performing individuals plus three members of the previous Board.

The new trustees are local attorney Phil Brown, retired hospital administrator Frank "Hitch" Learned, Lee Marks of Lee Marks Fine Art and David Phares of First Financial Bank along with long time SCP Board members Russell Gross, Noell Krughoff and Tiffany Wilson. The Board held its initial meeting on January 22. Learned was elected as the new president of the Board.

The previous Board of Shelby County Players is now known as the Artistic Team. It consists of Gross, Krughoff and Wilson plus William Brown, Alice Clapp, Chris Cox, Mike Evans, Sandy Fisher, Cindy Leahy, Lindy Meyer and Debbie Stafford. The Artistic Team will have a short term/daily focus and will manage theater productions.

The Board of Trustees and Artistic Team will collaborate to address the important issues facing Shelby County Players. Foremost is the need for a theatre facility to provide a permanent home for performances, rehearsals, set building and storage. In addition, a fund raising program will be created to meet the goal of establishing a facility.
